Theme

Ethics is the standard of behaviour which tells us how a human being should act in different situations amongst the stakeholders of the institutions. It is the prerequisite that develop the culture to honour the paradigm shifts in technological, behavioural and competitive areas of dynamic environment and can assist the academic administrators to translate their effort into sustainable and significant developments towards attaining objectives to the Academic Institutions.

Higher Education happens to be the essential driving force behind National Development as it promotes production and dissemination of knowledge. In this rapidly changing and complex borderless global society, contribution of Higher Education is undisputed towards ensuring equity, justice, solidarity and liberty.

Ethics makes the Academic Institutions more tuned and acceptable to the society ensuring the attributes like vision, tolerance, respect, avoidance of excuse, and delays, team work, transparency and accountability with responsibility.

The aim of this two day seminar is to explore the multiple facets of ethical practices in the Academic Institutions and to attain a meaningful conclusion in order to give the governance of the Academic Institutions– a human face.
